DecisionEd Awarded Technology Contract by Alhambra School District

COPPELL, Texas, September 30, 2016 -- DecisionEd announced that it has been selected by Alhambra Elementary School District to provide data management, analytics and reports; delivering performance management solutions.

“Alhambra ESD developed a very detailed set of requirements for a data analytics and performance management product selection, said DecisionEd Chief Architect, Mark Mason. “DecisionEd provides a robust match of features and functionalities to provide powerful insight into their data. We are excited to be working with Alhambra and leveraging our past experience working with other districts in Arizona to impact the educational process.”

“Alhambra Elementary School District #68 selected DecisionEd through a rigorous Request for Proposal (RFP) process. A district stakeholder team, made up of district and site leaders, chose DecisionEd based upon the customizable dashboards, comprehensive data model, and rich analytics,” said Nan Williams, Ed.D., Director of Technology. “We loved that there are no added or hidden costs for “non-included modules” and that we have the flexibility to include new data sets (new assessments, SIS, etc.) as the data becomes available or changes from year-to-year.”

DecisionEd’s solution is based on quantitative decision tools long used by business, tailored to the unique needs of education. By combining disparate databases, the solution helps K-12 school districts consolidate information critical to meeting their goals. DecisionEd’s complete, easy-to-understand accounting of critical metrics enables schools to make more informed decisions, leading to improved student success and graduation rates.

The Alhambra School District #68 currently services students in 14 schools in Phoenix, Arizona. Alhambra ESD focuses on enriching the life of the whole child in collaboration with families and the greater community. Nan followed up saying, “We know that using the DecisionEd Data Warehouse will help us in achieving our vision of educating the whole child.”
